I spoke with David.

Yes, multiple business license can operate in one address, as long as the building is zoned appropriately and it doesn't violate the use as it is designated.

Good morning,

I'll have to loop in David, our Planning Director. But I believe there are no restrictions on the amount of business license for one location. However, there may be restrictions on occupancy for the building and how the businesses are set up for patrons.

David - Can you confirm or clarify?

Thank you,

Nicole,

Is there a way I can find out if one retail location would allow multiple business licenses?

I'm trying to connect the POC businesses to the property owners in the downtown area. I'm working on an idea to place multiple businesses in one location (similar to Crafted), but need to see if there are any restrictions on this.

Thank you for your assistance.
